JBC Corporation

JBC Corporation is a mergers and acquisitions “holdings company” who specializes in acquiring hard, soft, virtual and paper assets that are performing (i.e. already producing revenue) that can be scaled and/or are close to producing revenue but not doing so just yet. JBC Corporation is based in Michigan with satellite offices in both NC and Ohio.

Our Team

JBC Corporation has a seasoned CBDT (core business development team) in-house and we have intimate personal relationships with the individuals and businesses with whom we work together for mutual benefit.

What We Do

Our primary focus areas are:

1. Asset Acquisition
2. Asset Management
3. Consulting Services

Executive Summary

Asset Management

JBC Corporation follows a “capacity management” model for managing our assets and we use cooperative partnerships to facilitate the daily operations of select assets that require hands-on attention on a daily basis. We have a detailed process we customized and now use for identifying assets and their performance capabilities that is an intimate part of our IP (intellectual property).

Bogo-Free and Strategic Pharmaceuticals

These two assets were acquired by JBC Corporation from www.into-reality.com in 2022 and are being brought into full operational status in early 2023.

Bogo-Free is a “Virtual Asset” type acquired as an autopilot income generating business that will be similar to but uniquely different from Craigslist as a classified ads website that will generate revenue through data sales and ad sales.

Strategic Pharmaceuticals is a “Hard Asset” type acquired as a long term investment that will generate revenue through government and private sector contracts that can be obtained directly and indirectly through sub-contractor opportunities.

We encourage you to read the addendums we created on these two businesses and the links have been provided on the previous page of this executive summary.

Our Intellectual Property

How and why JBC Corporation does what it does is an intimate part of our IP (intellectual property). This is not made available for public consumption to protect the integrity of our proven strategies that we apply daily in our business operations. We do have a system that works and this system is proven by the types of assets we acquire and their revenue generating potential.

We believe there is great value in “HOW WE WORK” and we continue to tweak our operational protocols to maximize our performance capabilities.

Technology Integration

JBC Corporation will have a state of the art website and mobile app platform that will take us into 2023 and beyond allowing our CBDT (core business development team) to manage our assets, inform our investors and is the foundation for evolving into our own fund. Please visit www.jbc-corporation.com to see what we are doing.

Executive Summary

Financial Assumptions

In 2023 we believe that we can easily accomplish a pre-tax post expenditure profit margin of at least $132,000,000 at the highest possible expenditure expectations and the lowest level of income performance of 60% (please see page 20 of our Financial Assumptions section within our business presentation and here is the link again for your convenience <http://www.roadmapforjbc.com/files/JBCCorporationBusinessProfile.pdf>). In 2024 and beyond we expect our income to grow far past those projected for 2023.

We are working to scale our operations through a IPO (initial public offering) and we will use the proceeds from the sale of stock, along with a portion of our profitability to start our own FUND.

Assured Mutual Success

JBC Corporation has an impressive network of cooperative partners who work with us for mutual benefit. Our strategy is to nurture our relationships with those we work with so that the relationships we have empower us and our partners collectively.

Our Evolution into FINTECH

JBC Corporation will start our own FUND as a subsidiary to fund our own projects and the assets we acquire. Our sophisticated website and mobile apps platform have been custom designed with bespoke software to allow us to easily and efficiently transition into FINTECH, an evolution that will only increase the value of our company.

Our operations of 2022 into 2023 will see a natural evolution into managing our own FUND while maintaining our three primary focus areas as stated herein.

Moving Forward

Please feel free to contact us anytime to discuss our business in greater detail and thank you for taking the time to read our more in-depth collateral materials as we are confident the additional information will resonate greatly with you.
